

Flying start Royal Mail has become the first UK parcel firm to deliver a package by drone on the Isle of Mull after teaming up with DronePrep, Skyports and what3words. The drone services, which have also been used to deliver medicine to remote communities during the coronavirus crisis, will be trialled further on the Scottish island in the new year.